

Vectric Ltd

Wins the Queen's Award for Enterprise

Date: 21st April 2010

Vectric Ltd was today honoured with a Queen's Award for Enterprise for International Trade after increasing exports more than fivefold to over £1m in the last 3 years. With software sales into over 75 countries representing 90% of turnover, and the USA being the company's largest market, the Vectric software solutions have rapidly become internationally accepted for computerized applications requiring artistic design and precision CNC machining.

The award was publicly announced on 21st April - the Queen's birthday - and Vectric is one of the very few businesses to receive this prestigious accolade. The International Trade Award recognizes substantial growth in overseas earnings and commercial success at outstanding levels, based on 3 years trading results.

Managing Director Brian Moran commented,

"It's a tremendous honour to receive this award and testimony to the hard work and on-going commitment of our team, the international resellers and our loyal customers around the world who continue to amaze us with what they are doing with the Vectric software products.”

Commercial Director Tony McKenzie said,

“We are extremely proud to have won this prestigious award that will help consolidate Vectric’s position as a world class supplier of CNC machining software solutions. The award coincides with Vectric celebrating its 5th birthday, so a very timely double celebration.”

Vectric Ltd is a software development company specializing in writing software solutions for traditional craft industries in market sectors such as wood carving, sign making and engraving. The software products focus on simplifying design and manufacturing processes to enable small businesses to very easily implement new computerized CNC machining techniques. Enabling them to become more flexible and offer a wider range of products and services, expand into new and ever growing home & international markets as well as reduce production times and improve quality.
